

Legal disclaimers

ResMed has provided this Internet web site as a general information service. ResMed is not responsible for any error, omission, misrepresentation, or misstatement contained in these pages.

Any medical information is provided as general information only. It is not a substitute for advice from a registered physician or other health care professional.

Product information is also provided as general information. It is not a substitute for user manuals or other documentation supplied with ResMed products nor a substitute for advice from a registered physician or other health care professional.

The products described on this web site may not be available in all countries. In particular, when there are different part numbers for a product, the European products comply with the Medical Device Directive (93/42/EEC), meet local regulations, and bear a CE mark. Products without a CE mark must not be distributed in Europe.

Product specifications may change without notice.

In some countries, some or all of the product described on this Web site is available only by order of a physician.

ResMed does not endorse any external party websites that are linked to this site.

The whole of the contents on this Web site is the subject of copyright owned or licensed by ResMed.

All rights are reserved, and any unauthorized copying, storage, or reproduction in any form is strictly prohibited by the copyright owner.

By clicking on a link and downloading a product manual from this web site, you confirm that you are either an end user of the product in question, a commercial partner or a medical professional seeking information about the product for the purposes of assessing its suitability for patients.

The downloading of this material by any organization (other than a ResMed commercial partner) involved in the commercial sale or other dealing in the products described is prohibited.